DEALING IN BONDS LIGHT IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 1.—Light dealings marked today's opening for bonds on the stock exchange. Offerings were again in small lots, the largest transaction in the first ten minutes being the sale of $20,000 of St. Paul convertible 4½% at a decline of 4-3c. Other issues which showed fractional reversals in the early trading included Southern Pacific 1½% and 2%, and Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific 5%. Public Service of New Jersey 5% broke 13-4c. Minor gains were made by Union Pacific convertible 4%, Interborough 4½% and United States 6%.

Offerings became more diversified as the session progressed. For the most part, however, activity was confined to the more speculative issues, obscure bonds showing marked weakness. The volume of trading up to noon was slightly in excess of that yesterday.

PAYS $7600 FOR 100 HEAD OF 2-YEAR-OLDS

The Portales News says:

Last week Dr. R. H. Bailey bought from Charles Hurt 160 head of extra good 2-year-old steers for which he gave his check for $7,800. This sounds like a fancy price and it is, but these were fancy steers and Dr. Bailey thought them worth the money. He has two sets of 200 tons capacity each, well filled with good rich ensilage, and will fatten these cattle for the market. They are all white faces and will weigh at this time from 700 to 800 pounds. He expects to follow them with 220 heads. Dr. Bailey should make a nice profit on this bunch of steers.

This organization, which was organized only last week, is expected to have a membership of one hundred or more stockmen before the convention date, and this gathering will bring together the largest cattle raisers in southwestern New Mexico and southeastern Arizona.

As the dates are just previous to the spring roundups, it will give the stockmen an opportunity to interview cattle buyers who will be here for the spring sales.

THREE COUNTIES TO JOIN IN CATTLEMEN'S CONVENTION

CONTEST FILED BY REPUBLICANS IN UNION COUNTY

The Clayton News which reached Albuquerque last night has the following:

As we go to press we learn that the defeated and repudiated Republican candidates in the late election for representatives from this country have filed contest proceedings against the dates of election and we understand that an officer left this forenoon to seek Mr. Miers at his home near Reyes and perform a like service, but Mr. Miers reached town about noon without meeting the process server.

It is charged that this paper did not publish the election proclamation, or sit it in, but in one issue, but the editor is willing to answer a "Dives Team" and prove the charge false.

Our Republican friends evidently think that "right makes right," and may be apoplectic of the man who said, "The people be d—d."
